BOARD OF TRADE MEETING.
A large number of business men met in the Council chamber on Wednesday 7th June last to take the necessary steps to apply to the Government for an act to incorporate the "Prince Albert Board of Trade." Among those present were Mayor MacArthur, Hon. L. Clarke, C.
Mair, Col. Sprat, J. Stewart, T. O. Davis,
G. C. McLeod, E. J. Cann, J. H. McPhail,
T. J. Agnew and S. J. McLeod. Mayor
MacArthur was called to the chair and explained briefly the objects and advantages of a Board of Trade in our midst. Hon. L.
Clarke, Col. Sprat and others gave their views on the matter; the meeting being unanimous that such an institution should be established, the following officers and Council were unanimously elected pro tem to assume the responsibility of procuring the incorporation of the Prince Albert Board of Trade, viz: President, Hon. L. Clarke, Vice-President, C. Mair, Secretary, J. Knowles, Treasurer, T. J. Agnew. Council to consist of Messrs. MacArthur, Stewart, Davis,
Way, Fish, Gwynne, Col. Sprat, McLeod,
Cann, McPhail, Bratner and Johnson.
Mr. Newlands was appointed solicitor.
The meeting then adjourned to meet on Wednesday, 13th July, to hear the report of the Council as to the steps they propose taking to procure incorporation.
It is expected a larger representation of business men will be present.

No one can deny the pre-eminent importance of a board of trade to the prosperity of a community, and should a statistical bureau, such as we find at Washington, be established at Ottawa in connection with the new Trade and Commerce Department, the material advantages of a board of trade will be doubled. This action on the part of the business men should have the hearty support not only of the town citizens in general, but of the entire farming community in this district. The main object of such an institution are calculated to promote and extend the lawful trade and commerce of the district of Saskatchewan an area of 280,000 square miles. The industries of the town are promoted as the productions of the surrounding country increase. The prosperity of the town and country are therefore reciprocal.
The interests of the farming community are promoted and centralized in the same Agricultural Society. The interests of the trade and commerce of the town are advanced by the Board of Trade.
It is a source of great pleasure to us to record the establishment of these public institutions which speak largely in favor of the general prosperity of the place.

The undersigned being about to clear up their business in Prince Albert, they by notify all parties indebted to them that all accounts remaining unpaid to the 10th of July next will be put in court for collection without further notice.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Macdowall, M.P., we have been favored with several annual departmental reports, to some portions of which we may probably direct attention in a future issue.

The accounts which are now pouring in of the manner in which the Royal Jubilee has been celebrated all over the globe are of a nature to gratify the somewhat exacting amour propre of all true Britons, as well as to strengthen and widen their sympathies for other peoples and nationalities. It may be safely said that no single event in history has ever occasioned so spontaneous, so genuine, so wide spread a recognition among the nations of the earth as Queen Victoria's Jubilee. It has been like that "touch of nature which makes the whole world akin."

Amid the accounts that are reaching us of almost innumerable celebrations, interest naturally centres in the gorgeous pageant at Westminster Abbey. Fitting it was that this brilliant spectacle which, in living interest, throws all previous triumphal processions into shadow, should have been enacted in that historic fane which for eight hundred years has been the scene of so many striking incidents in the national annals—at once the crowning place and the sepulchre of kings—the Valhalla of British heroes—the resting place of poets, of scholars, and of statesmen.

But perhaps the most impressive feature in the spectacle to a great freedom-loving people is the contemplation of those vast multitudes of loyal subjects of different religious faiths and political creeds—but of one heart and one mind in their love of Queen and country, who densely lined the streets and swarmed upon every "coign of vantage" from palace gate to abbey tower. And as the deafening roar from myriads of loyal throats swelled and rolled along the royal route, it must have been strongly borne in upon thoughtful minds how deeply seated and genuine is British loyalty, and how far removed above the strife of parties.

"Tis a rich, rough gem,
Deny it who can,
The heart of a free-born Englishman."

We are glad to observe that the subject of secondary education in our town is being taken hold of vigorously by hands well qualified for the work. For primary education the Government has given sufficient encouragement, and the judicious management of our school trustees in providing teaching power of a high class, and their arrangement for the early provision of ample school accommodation, leave nothing to be desired. In the rector of the present High School, too, we have a gentleman who requires no certificate of qualification from us, and we shall be delighted to be able to congratulate all concerned on the success of the present efforts for the improvement of the institution. We trust, however, the promoters of the present scheme may see their way, in reorganizing or remodelling the High School, to place it on an unsectarian basis, and we mistake the tone of public sentiment if this be not also the opinion of many whose judgment is entitled to respect.

COMMUNICATIONS.

It must be distinctly understood that we do not hold ourselves responsible for the opinions expressed by correspondents. Correspondents must give their names to be taken into consideration for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

"SEED GRAIN"

To the Editor of the Times.

SIR.—From reliable information obtained from directors of the Lorne Agricultural Society, one of whom is a prominent member of the seed grain committee, I am now fully convinced that what purported to have been a report of the seed grain committee, as published in your issue of the 3rd June last, had no existence except in the mind of the writer—notwithstanding Mr. Craig's statement to the contrary—and under this belief I hereby tender to the seed grain committee, as such, my humble apology for the strong language used against them, while laboring under the impression that they were responsible for the report falsely imputed to them. This makes Mr. Craig's position a most painful one. Having undertaken to defend a fallacy, knowing it to be such, he has fallen completely under, and in a supreme effort—born of desperation—to extricate himself from his perilous position, he distorts with the most unblushing effrontery, the true phase of Mr. McQueen's case, which, as stated by memory only, was absolutely correct. But on referring to my order paper I find there was an application filed for him on the 13th April, only a day previous to coming for me—not for 30 bushels of oats as stated by Mr. Craig, but for 30 bushels of oats and 10 of barley. The latter I find cancelled on the order paper for the reason already given. The oats, however, were allotted to him. This Mr. McQueen's own version of the affair is this. He says I told him the oats at that particular time were on the road from Indian Head and would be at his disposal as soon as they arrived at the warehouse and this he heard out my statement that oats were not refused him. He says besides that he never yet expressed his disapproval of my conduct in his case.

This discussion, in so far as I am concerned, must now close. To continue the controversy with such an adept at prevarication as Mr. C has proved himself to be, would, I feel, be degrading myself while serving no good purpose.

Having stated my case fairly, faith fully and honestly, I leave the matter to the thoughtful and candid consideration of a discerning public in whose estimation, I feel sorry to say, Mr. Craig has lowered himself by the strangely erratic course which he has pursued in this matter.

Yours truly,

JOHN McTAGGART,
Agent Dominion Lands.

UNDISPUTED MERIT

The great success of the Royal Baking Powder, is due to the extreme care exercised by its manufacturers to make it entirely pure, uniform in quality, and of the highest leavening power. All the scientific knowledge, care and skill, by a twenty years' practical experience, are concentrated toward this end, and no pharmaceutical preparation can be dispensed with a greater accuracy, precision and exactness. Every article used is absolutely pure. A number of chemists are employed to test the strength of each ingredient, so that its exact power and effect in combination with its co-ingredients, is definitely known. Nothing is trusted to chance, and no person is employed in the preparation of the materials used or the manufacture of the powder, who is not an expert in his particular branch of the business. As a consequence, the Royal Baking Powder is of the highest grade of excellence, always pure, wholesome and uniform in quality. Each box is exactly like every other, and will retain its power and produce the same and highest leavening effect in any climate, at any time. The Government chemists, after having analyzed all the principal brands in the market, in their reports placed the Royal Baking Powder at the head of the list for strength, purity, and wholesomeness, and thousands of tests all over the country have further demonstrated the fact that its qualities are, in every respect, unrivalled.

A UNIQUE WORK ON CANADIAN TOPICS.

Mr. Erasmus Wiman, President of the Canadian Club, writes to the editor of this paper as follows:

"It is the intention of certain members of the Canadian Club in New York to issue, in the form of a beautiful book, the papers which have been delivered before the Club during the past winter by prominent parties, together with those which are to be delivered during the remainder of the season."

"These papers will include a speech on 'Commercial Union,' by the Hon. Benjamin Butterworth, member of Congress, who is said to be one of the most eloquent of that body. A remarkable production by Prof. Goldwin Smith on 'The Schism in the Anglo-Saxon Race.' A paper by Dr. Grant of the Queen's University on 'Canada First.' One by J. W. Hengough, Editor of Toronto Grip. By Mr. Lemoine, of Quebec, on 'The Heroines of New France.' By J. A. Fraser 'An Artist's Experience in the Canadian Rockies.' By Edmund Collins, on 'The Future of Canada.' By Prof. G. D. Roberts, of King's College. By Geo. Stewart, Jr., of Quebec. By the Rev. Dr. Eccleston, on 'Canadian North West.' By John McLaughlin, 'The Minerals of Canada.' And by the Editor G. D. Fairchild, Jr., on 'The History of the Canadian Club.' The work will also include extracts from the speeches and letters of the President."

"The book is to be issued in beautiful style, at $1 per copy."

A great many Canadians will doubtless desire to possess themselves of this rare compilation, and, by purchasing copies, indicate the interest which is manifested throughout Canada in the attempt of the Canadian Club to lay before Americans the resources, advantages, and attractions of their native country.

"Parties desirous of obtaining copies can do so by enclosing the price of the book to James Ross, Canadian Club, 12 East 26th Street, New York."

Mr. D. J. Waggoner, our popular Crown Timber Agent, left for his old home at Kingston on Tuesday last. It is the intention of Mr. Waggoner, we understand, to return shortly with his family. Mr. Waggoner has made the Crown Timber office one of the most popular of our Government offices by his judicious management, combined with courtesy, leniency and justice. We wish Mr. Waggoner a pleasant trip with the assurance of a hearty welcome on returning to our midst with his family.

ernment, passed at last session of Parliament, to assist and encourage agricultural

The following was taken from the Winnipeg Call of June 27th: "Two or three weeks ago Mr. W. F. Fish, a well known and popular Winnipeg boy, left the city for a trip east. For two or three years Billy, as he was familiarly called,
had been ailing and the object of his trip was mainly to improve his declining health.
It seems, however, that consumption, the dreaded disease with which he was afflicted had got the mastery over his system. A day or so ago his father here received a telegram to the effect that his son was very seriously ill at the residence of his uncle in Montreal. Another dispatch on Saturday that Billy could not live very long. On Sunday night at a late hour Mr. Fish received a message announcing the death of his son, which occurred about 21 o'clock. The remain-will probably be interred in Montreal but as yet no arrangements have been made. The deceased's many friends here will sincerely regret the very sad news.
[Mr. Fish was well known here, both personally and by reputation, and those who knew him were shocked to hear of his sudden death. To his brother—Mr. W.
F. Fish of our own town—the sad news was a terrible blow, as he had not the slightest intimation of his brother's serious illness, till he heard of his death. We join with others in offering him our sincere condolences.]

THE QUEEN'S JUBILEE

How the Day was Spent in Prince Albert.

Music Singing - Lacrosse - Athletic Sports - Horse Races - Indian Dance - Fireworks - Citizens' Ball.

Friday last was a red letter day in the calendar of Prince Albert. The weather for some time previously had been broken and rainy, which, though of vast importance to our agricultural friends, was not exactly suited for holiday making on a large scale, and fears were entertained. Fortunately, however, the morning broke auspiciously, and the Queen's Jubilee was celebrated by the loyal people of Prince Albert in real Queen's weather.

The first element of a successful gathering was this present, and nothing else was wanting to make this celebration one of the most enjoyable and memorable public events that have occurred in the history of our town. The various committees in charge of the different parts of the long programme all worked with a will, and it may be said in a single sentence that everything was conducted in the most admirable way, and without hitch or accident.

From an early hour all the roads leading into town were thronged with vehicles carrying freights of holiday makers. The town itself was gay with flags and bunting, all business was suspended and the whole population may be said to have turned out en masse to do honor to the occasion.

At seven o'clock in the morning the P. A. C. Band were out in command, and the day's rejoicings by playing the National Anthem and several other pieces of music in excellent style. The next part of the programme of entertainments was a lacrosse match between the Prince Albert and the N. W. Police clubs, played on the grounds of the former, and which turned out to be rather one-sided. Both clubs have been recently organized, but the civilians were fortunate in having one or two "old hands" on their team who bothered their opponents badly. With a little more practice, we have no doubt the Police boys will make it very interesting for the town club—some of them showing very good play for beginners. The match was greatly enjoyed by the large concourse of onlookers, and was played out with the utmost good humor on both sides. Immediately adjoining the lacrosse grounds a grand stand had been erected, and as soon as the game was over the children attending schools in the town and neighborhood, who had assembled in the Presbyterian church, marched on to the ground headed by the band and took up places on the stand, in which they almost completely filled. Mayor MacArthur having assumed his position as chairman, supported by Judge McGuire, Councilors Agnew, Bain, Batzner and Stewart, the children then under the conductorship of Mr. E. J. Cann and led by the band, sang the Queen's Anthem with fine effect, at the end repeating the first verse, in which the whole assembly joined.

His Worship the Mayor, who on attaining a speaking attitude, was loudly cheered, then made a short and highly appropriate oration in honor of the Jubilee—first of all offering a word of apology for the unavoidable absence of the gentleman who had been expected to take this part of the programme. Having spoken of the rarity of royal jubilees and named the four instances that have occurred in English history, he took a rapid retrospective glance at the Queen's reign, and enumerating some of the principal events that had occurred during the Victorian era, showed that no previous period of equal duration had been characterized by such a rapid advance of the British Empire in civilization and wealth and power and in intellectual progress. It will become us on this auspicious occasion to honor the Queen, the head of the most powerful Empire in the world, who by a rare combination of regal gifts and graces had obtained universal admiration and respect, and who was still more to be loved by every true British heart because of those domestic virtues which adorned and beautified her private life. Wishing the Queen might be long spared to health and happiness, the Mayor concluded amidst the hearty applause of the large audience.

Capt. Craig proposed a vote of thanks to Messrs. Johnston and Cann, who had taken great pains in a preparatory training of the children, both in town and country, for their present appearance in public.

Mr. J. L. Johnson replied, and concluded by proposing a round of applause for the children, who had turned out in such large numbers and made so excellent an appearance—and some of whom had come seventeen and eighteen miles to be present.

Coun. Agnew proposed a special vote of thanks to the band, which added so much to the attractions of Prince Albert.

Mr. St. Louis and the band having with characteristic modesty returned thanks in a tune, the children under the care of Messrs. Johnston, Stull and others marched off to the Public School-room where by the kindness of the ladies ample preparations had been made for lunch.

At 12:30 the programme of sports was entered upon and continued till all the events were run off, details of which will be found below.

And now came a part of the day's entertainment which though not on the programme, was not the less enjoyable on that account. The Hon. L. Clarke, with the aid of some friends, got up a Sun Dance by a band of Sioux which attracted much attention. About twenty of the band took part in the dance and after it was finished, the chief, whose name we do not quite remember, made a speech in his own language, which was translated first into French by an interpreter and then into English by Mr. Clarke. The chief said the Dacotahs thanked the people of Prince Albert for their kindness. His tribe belonged to the United States, but they had never been so well off as since they came here, for they never were allowed to suffer want. Mr. Clarke made a short speech in reply, which was translated into Sioux by the interpreter. This speech was accompanied by a substantial present of money, which Mr. Clarke specially explained was given them to celebrate the Jubilee of the Queen—the great mother of her white and red children. Three cheering cheers were then given for Mr. Clarke, "the man with the big heart," which the red-skins seemed to understand thoroughly, and so closed this interesting part of the proceedings.

The scene of operations was now transferred to the Court House where, after sundown, a display of fireworks was given and the lightened proceedings of the day were wound up by a ball, at which enthusiastic couples, in spite of the temperature, enjoyed themselves till a reasonable hour.

Much praise is due to the committee of management for their excellent arrangements. As usual, a good deal of the actual work fell to the share of the secretary, but Mr. Newlands was fully equal to the occasion. The band performed at intervals throughout the day and thereby added greatly to the general enjoyment.

The following is the list of sports and horse races, with the names and order of winning:
